INTRODUCTION

The volume herewith presented constitutes R. L. Polk & Co.'s Chico and Oroville Directory for 1926. The publishers have endeavored to produce a volume combining all that is vital in the civic, social and industrial life and activity of Chico and Oroville.

A careful enumeration of the citizens and business interests of the community and a compilation of the result by trained employees assures as correct and reliable a work of its character as is possible to be produced. The publishers have an organization solely devoted to the publication of directories, and their methods and resources are unrivalled. Their imprint on the hundreds of directories published for cities throughout the country attests the quality and reliability of their product. Directories are an essential and indispensable means of reference and an index to what is in a community. They portray it as it actually is and they are the only means whereby its various features can be learned by the general public throughout the country.

The several essential departments of the Directory are set forth in the order following:

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 10 to 12, include data concerning city and county officials, churches, clubs, associations, schools, societies, parks, public buildings and halls, secret and benevolent societies, etc.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, pages 13 to 27, contains the advertisements of the leading and progressive business men and concerns alphabetically arranged under headings adapted to the class of business conducted. This feature is printed on tinted paper.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES OF CITIZENS, business firms and corporations is embraced in pages 29 to 159.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE AND DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS extends from pages 160 to 193.

A TELEPHONE GUIDE, arranged numerically, is included in pages 194 to 213.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 333 to 361, and shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations, compiled under headings appropriate to the class of business pursued. This department will be appreciated as a special trade directory. The directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller.

CHICO

The Growing Commercial Center of the Upper Sacramento Valley

CHICO, CALIFORNIA, in Sacramento Valley; 98 miles north of Sacramento; 185 miles north of San Francisco; on main Southern Pacific line and California State Highway; northern terminus Sacramento Northern Railroad. Six Southern Pacific trains daily; fourteen fast Electric trains daily. Overnight freight service from San Francisco.

Founded in 1860 by General John Bidwell, California pioneer, Congressman and candidate for President in 1892.

Growth has been rapid since subdivision of Bidwell Ranch of 25,000 acres into small farms; center of rich agricultural district; location of United States Plant and Seed Introduction Station, one of the most important stations maintained by the Department of Agriculture.

Has gained considerable fame for its wonderful natural park of 2,300 acres, presented to the city by General and Mrs. John Bidwell. This park extends from the business district ten miles into the Sierra Nevadas and contains deep canyons, and other scenic wonders, including Sir Joseph Hooker Oak, named after Sir Joseph Hooker, the English naturalist who first commented on its size. Hooker Oak is the largest oak tree in the world.

With an average mean winter temperature of 45 to 50 degrees and an average mean summer temperature of 70 to 75 degrees, Chico has one of the finest climates in California. The cool nights in summer and the relatively low humidity make sleeping in the open air a joy the year around. During the warmer weather of July and August an hour's ride into the mountains will bring you to cool camp sites among the pines and excellent trout fishing. Three hours driving will take you to the summit and the snow line.

The soil of Chico district is a rich loam six to twenty feet deep. One of the best bodies of land in Sacramento Valley; grows a great variety of crops including grains, vegetables, berries, alfalfa and fruits of all kinds.

Because of the remarkable character of Chico soil and climate, the United States Department of Agriculture established here in 1904 its largest experimental station for the introduction of foreign plants.

The State of California located in this district its first State Land Settlement, the Chico-Durham district being selected on merit alone in competition with sixty-nine other sites offered throughout California. The Durham Colony is becoming famous throughout the country.

When People "Want"!!
THEY LOOK IN THE
CITY DIRECTORY
(CLASSIFIED SECTION)

¶ Is your name under the commodity they seek?

¶ If not, that opportunity of routing valuable business to you is lost. It's about the same as if you kept one of your entrance doors locked.

¶ Hadn't you better investigate your omnipresent city directory, and convince yourself of how it can help your business?

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.

Directory and Reference Media

THE reference medium or directory, whether it is a city directory, state gazetteer or a business directory, ties up closely with other forms of advertising. It is distinguished from the creative style of advertising in that it is passive while the buyer is active. On the other hand, the creative advertising in newspapers, magazines, trade papers, etc., is active while the buyer is passive.

Both are necessary in a well-rounded campaign. The function of creative advertising is to make people want what they did not want before, and to educate them to the point where they are conscious of that want. Reference advertising is an aid at the critical time when the initiative has passed from the seller to the buyer; when the desire to buy is strong, and the question is whether the prospect will buy the advertised article, another brand, or cool off altogether while waiting for the "catalog and name of nearest dealer." If the advertisement which suggested the want can be supplemented by another directing the prospect to the place where he can see the goods, the efficiency of the entire advertising expenditure will be greatly increased.

The directory has a 100 per cent prospect circulation inasmuch as its very nature makes it sell only where it will be used. Its circulation is not so much gauged by the number of copies sold as by the number of people who consult it. There are directory libraries maintained throughout the country for reference purposes, and in them may be found all the most important directories published. Surprise is often expressed by librarians at the number of people who are constantly consulting these sources of information.

There are many kinds of directories and "catalogs," each covering some trade, or locality, or group interest, in which organized information may be found that is useful to the buyer. In every buying center the local directory presents a medium of universal accessibility. For over a hundred years people have been accustomed to refer to it as a logical place to find certain kinds of information. A system of exchange enables each publisher to offer free access to a file of the latest issues of directories from all over the country. This gives every local advertisement a nation-wide accessibility.

The long life of a directory advertisement is a strong point in its favor. It has an existence of 365 days and sometimes twice that, depending on the frequency of issue. It is always kept where it can be found by the buyer when he wants it.

It has a strong appeal for institutional advertising, as reputable publications give prestige to the advertisers who patronize them. It is a significant fact that from 80 to 90 per cent of the advertising in these publications is renewed year after year.

When People "Want"!!

THEY LOOK IN THE

CITY DIRECTORY

6. To solicit subscriptions and advertising solely upon the merits of the publication.
7. To avoid misrepresentation by statement or inference regarding circulation, placing the test of reference publicity upon its accessibility to seekers as well as on the number of copies circulated.
8. To co-operate with approved organizations and individuals engaged in creative advertising work.
9. To avoid unfair competition.
10. To determine what is the highest and largest function of directories and reference media in public service and then to strive in every legitimate way to promote that function.

$100.00 REWARD will be paid by the Association for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or "fake" Directory.
